Summary

Hello, I'm Martin, currently studying at FINKI with proficiency in programming languages including C, C++, HTML, CSS, and experience in desktop app development using C# .NET. I also have expertise in version control with Git. In addition to seeking internship opportunities to further hone my skills, I'm also actively looking for part-time positions in any IT-connected role. As a fast learner and dedicated worker, I'm eager to apply my skills to real-world projects. Thank you for your time, and I look forward to connecting with you.
